All-Round Support and Assistance: Dr. Amrita Banerjee, Assistant Professor, Dept. of English, VMM

Brief Outline

The webinar started with an inaugural address delivered by Dr. Manabendra Sahu, Principal, VMM. The webinar was divided into two sessions. After the inaugural session, technical sessions were started; the invited speakers delivered their lectures accordingly. In technical session I, Prof. Archan Mitra delivered on the issues of media and communication skills, soft skills, as well as creative writing. In technical session II, Mr. Suman Saha focused on film studies, followed by a question-and-answer session and a vote of thanks. The webinar received a lot of positive feedback from not only faculty members but also from students.

Concept Note:

In the last two decades, studying literature has diversified from printed pages to media studies, performance studies and such other non-conventional literary domains. The present pandemic has brought not only teaching and learning but regular life to a challenging change where people, desperate to communicate in social curfew, has resorted to electronic media as the only safe alternative. The use of e-media in teaching and learning has now staked its claim to not only being an important subsidiary to regular academic activity but also as the future platform of academic activity at all levels. It is already being called 'Education 4.0' model and is poised to take over the Indian scenario as early as 2025. Similarly, the effect of the pandemic is being felt in the way our access to conventional media has for example undertaken a shift - the day is truly on us when the shift from printed media to digital media has become an incontrovertible fact of life. Falling sales of printed publications to increasing number of hits on web portals are all, therefore, part of the same story.

Topics delivered by the speakers:

1. Prof. Archan Mitra: Media and Communication Skills
2. Mr. Suman Saha: Films Studies

Organized by Department of English, in collaboration with IQAC, Vivekananda Mission Mahavidyalaya, Purba Medinipur, West Bengal.

CONCEPT NOTE

In the last two decades, studying literature has diversified from printed pages to media studies, performance studies and such other non conventional literary domains. The present pandemic has brought not only teaching and learning but regular life to a challenging change where people desperate to communicate in social curfew, has resorted to electronic media as the only safe alternative. The use of e-media in teaching and learning has now staked its claim to not only being an important subsidiary to regular academic activity but also as the future platform of academic activity at all levels. Falling sales of printed publications to increasing number of hits on web portals are all, therefore, part of the same story.

In an attempt to shed light on this transition and to introduce young students to these domains Department of English, Vivekananda Mission Mahavidyalaya in collaboration with the IQAC of the college is organizing a one day state level webinar titled Desperate Communications: Studying Films and Other Media in our Diseased Times with particular focus on the importance of media studies and film studies in this trying time and the vistas they can open before the new learners. We cordially invite interested faculty members and students to join our humble endeavour to gain further insights from our esteemed speakers and to enrich our discussion with their valued observations.

Yoga has become an integral part of our daily lives in order to be healthy and hearty. With this notion, the NSS team of our Mahavidyalaya, in association with the IQAC of VMM, has organised a hands-on experience and awareness webinar on "Importance of Yoga for Mental Peace." Dr. Manabendra Sahu, Principal, Vivekananda Mission Mahavidyalaya, delivered the welcome address and talked about the importance of yoga in our daily lives. He encouraged all to practice yoga. We have with us Mr. Sambhu Nath Santra, retired Deputy Manager, IOCL, and Mondal Pravari, West Bengal State Patanjali Yog Samity, as resource person of that day. He gave a very clear explanation of the value of yoga in maintaining a stress-free lifestyle. He demonstrates various yoga poses for us that can help us maintain our composure. The programme was greatly appreciated by the students. Dr. Santanu Basu, Head of the English Department and IQAC Coordinator at Vivekananda Mission Mahavidyalaya, gave a vote of thanks to conclude the programme.

This is the first time in its history that the Department of Sanskrit has arranged an international webinar. The succession could be accomplished thanks to the tireless efforts of Dr. Sunita Barman, the then-Head of Department. However, approximately a hundred students joined the webinar. They highly benefited from the multi-skilled deliberations of learned scholars from around the world.

They expressed their gratitude over the Facebook chat.

Dr Manabendra Sahu, the Principal, addressed the students with the inaugural speech. Dr Shantanu Basu delivered the welcome address.

Dr Sunita Barman, the coordinator, expressed her deepest thanks to the students, resource persons, and other colleagues too.

Why different Corona viruses vary in severity?

Moderately higher degrees of lethality:

SARS-CoV (10% died)	MERS-CoV (23% died)	SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) (~3.5% died)
------------------------	------------------------	---------------------------------------

- The pathogen's fast transmission and long 14 days incubation period results in overall more number of people affected and died in COVID-19.
- SARS-CoV-2, binds to the ACE-2 receptor on human cells are capable of invading deep into the lungs, something that is associated with more severe diseases.

Objectives of the Webinar:

Today, the whole world is seriously helpless to a monstrous and deadly disease and humanity has confronted with different challenges. In these challenging times, Yoga, the ancient physical, mental and spiritual practice has been emerged as a proven tool for well-being. So positive health practices of Yoga and meditations are said to have several benefits for both physical and psychological well-being and they lead to emotional strength and mindfulness. Regular practice of yoga boosts the immune system of the body. It improves to enhance the functions of lungs, heart and other internal body organs. It helps not only calm the body and mind but it provides a constant source of energy in the body. Pranayama Yoga or breathing exercises strengthens our respiratory system. It is more relevant in the current times as it is the respiratory system of the body that is most adversely affected by the COVID-19.

Brief Outline of the Webinar

The webinar was started with an inaugural speech delivered by Dr. Manabendra Sahu, Principal, VMM and a welcome address by Dr. Santanu Basu, IQAC Coordinator.
