Foreword

The Annual Quality Assurance Report 2008-09 is an attempt to chart the progress of the College in the current academic year. It tries to bring to notice the strides the College has taken in its pursuit of continuous and sustained development. After its accreditation in the year 2007 the College had set up the IQAC as per NAAC norms and the subsequent AQAR's 2007-2008 and 2008-2009 are a record of Vivekananda Mission Mahavidyalaya's progress in the last two years.

The College though has to cope with some endemic disadvantages. Located as the College is in a Scheduled Caste and economically backward area it does not always get the best and the brightest students. However despite the odds we have achieved a steady academic progress. There have been consistently students with first class marks from the College. The extracurricular activities are also strong with four units of NSS, and enthusiastic participation in sports and cultural activities.

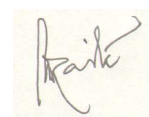

The hosting of seven State Level UGC sponsored seminars, opening of a UGC sponsored Remedial Coaching Centre and a training centre of Rastriya Sanskrit Sansthan, SAAC visit, sustained infrastructural and technological development and upgradation are some of the important achievements of this year.

The AQAR 2008-2009 highlights these and many other developments of the College. In some cases we have continued the good work begun earlier. That is reflected in the AQAR of this year when we find that the good things mentioned in the previous report also find pride of place here.

We end with the assurance that all the data, documents etc put in the AQAR are factual to the best of our knowledge.

The students belonging to SC and ST categories are recommended by the institution for Government SC/ST fund every year. Other than this, the students of lower and lower middle class families are provided concessions in their tuition fees. 30. Support from the Alumni Association and its activities:

The Alumni Association of our College Praktanee was established in 2003. The last reunion of the ex-students was held on 10th March 2007. Some of the ways by which the Alumni Association serves the institution are:

- By establishing a cordial relationship between the freshers and the ex-students.
- By promoting academic and development works of the college.
- By offering service and support to the college in its moments of need.
- By holding seminars, symposiums, workshops and other philanthropic services.
- By sharing with the current students various information regarding jobs and self-employment opportunities.

31. Support from the Parent-Teacher Association and its activities:

A Parent-Teacher Association is formally in place in the College, which meets once in a year but most of the interactions between parents and teachers take place on an informal level. The parents of the students are called when the students do not perform to the expected level or when they are irregular in class. For any misbehaviour/ misconduct, the Principal meets the guardian/ parent before taking any strict disciplinary measure. This helps to maintain discipline, with the humane approach that is required. The parents of those students, who are likely to go into the defaulters list, are informed in advance by personal meeting and their wards are given a chance to improve, so that their terms can be granted. The Parent teacher interaction also helps in receiving feedback from the parents and in involving them in the growth of the institution.

32. Health Services:

The College provides healthcare facilities to the students and staff. The NSS oversees the facilities. Two doctors, Dr. Subrata Jana and Dr. Ramendra Sundar Ghosh, twice a week - Tuesdays and Fridays, attend the campus. Medicines are also provided free to the students as and when possible. The College also has a tie-up with the Students' Health Home based at Chaitanyapur (Haldia), a branch of the Central Students' Health Home in Kolkata, to provide the students with free checkup, medicines and other medical facilities. The Medical Unit of the College is under the supervision of the NSS. Moreover, in all the Pulse Polio campaigns taken up by the local Panchayat it is the NSS volunteers who are at the forefront of the operation.

There is a Psychological Counselling Cell also functioning in the College, which helps students to cope with stress and strain in their personal and academic lives. Smt. Kakali Ghosh, Sri Asim Kumar Mandal (both lecturers in Philosophy) and Smt. Minati Sau Bhowmik (Part-time lecturer in Bengali) act as counsellors and counsel students on their problems. Of course they are not specialists but they have been allowed time and liberty to make themselves well conversant in this subject at their convenience. The Centre functions after College- hours on each Saturday of a month.

The College staff can avail Medical Loan from Employees Co-operative Society.

33. Performance in Sports activities:

The students of this College regularly do well in sports. The introduction of Physical Education in the UG level has helped the cause. This year one of our students, Soumen Das came third in 3000 Metres run in the Inter-University competition.

34. Incentives to outstanding sportspersons:

The College provides the outstanding sportspersons all the support necessary. The College provides them free sports kits. All their expenses are paid from the College fund when they take part in various competitions. As these students cannot regularly attend classes the shortfall in their attendance is sympathetically considered. The teachers also explain to them the lessons they missed. Even in case of their inability to appear for Internal Assessment tests because of their commitments in representing the College in Sports, provisions are in place to hold special tests for them. The achievements of these students are proudly noted by the institution and they are awarded prizes by dignitaries at the time of prize distribution.

At present we in the college provide students with information about various competitive exams. Employment News, Karmakhetra and other such job-oriented journals are subscribed in the library. Advertisements of the competitive exams are displayed in the career counselling centre notice board for the attention of the students. Teachers in their individual capacity provide students with all the help necessary in preparing for such exams. Magazines like Competition Success subscribed in the library also help in the preparation.

37. Placement services provided to the students:

As there is no Employment Cell the college does not provide placement opportunities. But we equip our students with the information relating to job advertisements and preparation for competitive exams.

38. Development programmes for non-teaching staff:

Steps are being taken to provide computer education to the office staff for smooth running of day-to-day office activities. The administration wants to make the office fully computerized.

39. Best practices of the institution:

Our college campus is clean and green. This is due to the efforts of the NSS Programme Officers and the volunteers. Cleanliness was the Best Practice we mentioned in our SSR submitted to N.A.A.C. Our Best Practice was appreciated and we are committed in keeping it up. The college campus bears evidence of it.

The other thing of which the College is proud about is the success it has achieved in its effort towards fiscal prudence and consolidation. The College has been successful in resource mobilization with funds received from different Government and Non-Government agencies. The audit report is prepared annually to ensure proper utilization of the fund received. The College has begun the healthy practice of Internal Audit. Individual Departments of the College have set up Departmental Library. This is to augment the reading resources of the students by lending them books in addition to what they get from the central library. The Departments also regularly publish Departmental magazines. Teachers and students both are actively involved in such activities.

The College prepares its Annual Report. The College also publishes a newsletter in printed form "VMM News". The College updates its Prospectus regularly taking into account all the new developments. It is clear and concise and is compiled to provide all the basic information to the students. The Students Union publishes annually a literary journal "Bodhan".

A healthy teacher:student ratio 1:33 exists in the College. There are a total of 1626 students in the College against 49 teachers (Full time & Part time). A Xerox-cum-STD booth, cheap store, cheap canteen, water booths, Gymnasium amongst others are made available to the students. Xerox facility is also available in the Remedial Coaching Centre. Stand-by generator is there in the college ground floor to be used in emergency hours.
